

Offering a one-year extensive introduction to the theoretical framework of the Conversational Model Commencing in March 2019

This one-year extensive introduction course will focus on the short version of the Model. Practitioners will be able to integrate this into their clinical work. All suitable candidates will then be given the opportunity to extend this first year to another two years of in-depth training in psychodynamic work in the Conversational Model.

The training will be offered part-time with all seminars conducted interactive on-line in real time. Supervision will be offered locally where possible, or on-line. Course fees cover:

- Attendance at two live-in student intensives in Sydney each year. The first intensive to be held from 1-3 March 2019 with the second to be held in the third quarter of the year to coincide with the annual conference. Fees cover one night's accommodation during the March intensive. Daytime catering is also covered. Does not include airfare.
- 28 weeks of Lectures
- 28 weeks of Supervisions
- On-line or in-person attendance at up to four ANZAP Saturday morning seminars
- Registration at ANZAP Conference & pre-Conference workshops in Sydney (usually held third quarter of the year)
